About our Speaker

Ambassador Robin Raphel is an expert in political, security, and economic development issues in South Asia and the Middle East. Information of Interest

Few American know that when an American gets in trouble outside the USA, he/she should call the nearest United States Embassy or Consulate. TFSG has cards to distribute with phone numbers for when in trouble overseas, the 911 number for use here, and the SOS symbol for use everywhere. Everyone will receive a card at the April meeting.

Austin is home to several groups who bring in experts on various aspects of national and international affairs, and some of their upcoming major speakers/events are listed on their websites. Please share this list with your friends.

TFSG Information:

2017 luncheons are on the second Tuesday of even-numbered months: February 14, April 11, June 13, October 10, December 12 (members-only Fun Festival Luncheon)

Doris Scott appreciates receiving autobiographies, photos, member updates, and notices of members' deaths. Updates for our memorial book are also appreciated.

Our group depends on great volunteers. Please talk to Doris, Joe, Jerry, or John if you have ideas for our group and/or would like to volunteer.

TFSG has bought a 90-inch diagonal screen for use at our luncheons. It is also available for rental for by other nonprofits for $40, with a refundable deposit of $300.

Our speakers send us suggestions for the bibliographies we prepare to accompany their speech. We post the bibliographies on our website, www.TFSG.org/luncheons/html, and mail copies to members with U.S. addresses but without access to email. The website contains all past bibliographies. Several members share our website with family and friends and we encourage all members to do so. The website also lists publications, writings, and speeches by past speakers and present TFSG members. We review the "Links" page on the website several times per year for needed additions or deletions, and suggestions are always welcomed. Send corrections for any page on the website to John at jsw69intadv@hotmail.com.

Members are encouraged to invite guests to any of our first four luncheons of the year. There are always door prizes, such as books, coupons for free meals, lottery tickets, chocolates, and prizes tied to special days such as Valentine's Day.

If you are a member and have been published or have produced a film, we would like to list your published books, articles, essays, and other works in the Members section of the Publications page on our website. According to the AFSA members-only limited-access community website, our TFSG website is often viewed more than 10 times a day.

If you have spoken to one of our meetings, we would like to list your published works in the Speakers section of our website.

If you have had a change in your street or mailing address, internet address, phone number, or outside-your-home emergency contact, please email this information to Doris Scott at dscott007@austin.rr.com. (Note: We do not share, loan, rent, or sell this information to anyone.)

Our membership fees are modest and our membership numbers are important. Please talk to your friends who have spent time outside of the USA and invite them to one of our luncheons – and then to join TFSG.

Most of our luncheons cost about $200 more than the luncheon fees bring in. We do not solicit donations, but neither do we refuse them.
